

BIOGRAPHY of Mr. Pascal Mafo

Pascal Mafo is originating from Batcham and born around 1960 at Bamunka Ndop in the North-West Region of Cameroon. After attending primary and secondary schools respectively in Batcham and Mbouda, he left his village and transit through the South-West Region to settle at Douala where he frequents the American Cultural Center in order to know the American culture. Sometimes after the closure of this center, he is recruited in a medical cabinet where he works while pursuing his home studies for medical representative. In 1993 after the “ghost town” and the “boycott” of French products provoked by the result of the presidential elections of 1992, he lost his job and started to sell medical products, then stopped for sometimes for courses in nursing. In 2002 after being member of “St John Ambulance Brigade” (SJAB) and of “The Regional Centre for the Welfare of the Ageing Persons in Cameroon” (RECEWAPEC), he founded the “Our Lady of the Angels Center” (OLAC)

Pascal Mafo is a State Registered Nurse, medical representative, author-composer, writer, poet, and father of 05 children and 03 grand children. He speaks English and French. Engaged lay Catholic Christian, he is a founding member of Our Lady of the Rosary Parish of Mambanda and of the liturgical committee of the same Parish.
